Dy.CM D.K. Shivakumar holds meeting with officials in city

Mysuru, Aug. 24 (BLU&DM)- With the State Congress Government all set to launch its ambitious Gruha Lakshmi Scheme (Rs. 2,000 monthly financial assistance to woman head of all eligible families) in Mysuru on Aug. 30, Deputy Chief Minister D.K. Shivakumar held a meeting with officials at the Zilla Panchayat (ZP) Hall here this noon.

Gruha Lakshmi Scheme is one of the five pre-poll promises made by Congress Government ahead of Assembly polls held in May. The official launch will take place at Maharaja's College Grounds on Aug. 30 in the presence of over 1.5 lakh beneficiary women from several districts of Mysuru region.

Top Congress leader Rahul Gandhi, Chief Minister Siddharamaiah, a host of his Cabinet Ministers and Congress leaders are attending the mega launch.

Shivakumar, who arrived at the ZP Hall for the meeting, was welcomed by a huge gathering of Congress workers who vied with each other to garland him. A few minutes later, he entered the ZP Hall and chaired the closed-door meeting.

Deputy CM D.K. Shivakumar, flanked by District Minister Dr. H.C. Mahadevappa and Women and Child Welfare Minister Lakshmi Hebbalkar during a meeting at ZP Hall in city this noon.

The Deputy CM also held a video-conference with officials of various Departments from Mysuru, Hassan, Chamarajanagar and Mandya districts and sought vital statistics and received inputs on registration of beneficiaries.

Mysuru District In-charge Minister Dr. H.C. Mahadevappa, Animal Husbandry Minister K. Venkatesh, Agriculture Minister N. Chaluvarayaswamy, Women and Child Welfare Minister Lakshmi Hebbalkar, MLAs Tanveer Sait, K. Harishgowda, Anil Chikkamadu, D. Ravishankar, Darshan Dhruvanarayan and P.M. Narendraswamy, Regional Commissioner Dr. G.C. Prakash, Mysuru DC Dr. K.V. Rajendra, Chamarajanagar DC Shilpa Nag, Mandya DC Dr. Kumara and others were present.

The Police, who anticipated that farmers would gather at the venue to protest against release of Cauvery water to Tamil Nadu, as D.K. Shivakumar is also the Water Resources Minister, had provided tight security at ZP.

Earlier, Shivakumar arrived from Bengaluru by a special flight at Mandakalli airport.

Congress has not launched 'Operation Hastha'

Speaking to presspersons at the Airport, Shivakumar said that the Congress had not set off 'Operation Hastha.' Asserting that the Congress was only welcoming leaders of Opposition parties who were voluntarily coming forward to join Congress without any conditions, he said that he cannot say right now the number and names of leaders willing to join Congress.

On the shifting of Gruha Lakshmi launch from Belagavi to Mysuru, the Deputy CM said that there was no politics behind it. The Government plans to hold launch of another programme at Belagavi, he said.

Contending that the Congress would win both Lok Sabha seats from Belagavi district in 2024, Shivakumar said that the Government also mulled on holding one of its pre-poll guarantees launch in Bengaluru. But the State capital was avoided for traffic reasons, he said adding that all measures will be taken to ensure that Gruha Lakshmi Scheme reaches the beneficiaries on time.

Asserting that the Government was not short of funds, he said that the Scheme money will be credited to the accounts of beneficiaries on time, following the Aug. 30 launch.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

India is on the moon and all Indians over the moon. It is a spectacular watershed moment for India's space programme. The Indian nation stands as one in saluting the scientists and technologists of the Indian Space Research Organisation (ISRO) on the success of Chandrayaan-3. For the millions who watched Vikram approach its landing site on the moon on Wednesday evening with bated breath, the tension was unbearable. But with Vikram's perfect soft-landing, Mother India's heart flowed over with immense joy and pride.

India's investments in space over the last four to five decades have enabled better communications, television transmission, mapping, weather observation and forecasting, effective natural resource management, education expansion, advancing telemedicine and disaster management. In the coming decades, India's space technology capabilities are likely to advance to the point where it can pursue its programme independently in scientific, commercial and strategic fields.

India's space programme has both substantive and symbolic significance. That India has done it, in substantial measure, on her own is something to be proud of. As Captain James Kirk, the commander of the eponymous Starship Enterprise, might say, India is now poised to go where no man has gone before. ISRO, we salute you; we are proud of you. — Gurucharan Gollerkeri in Deccan Herald

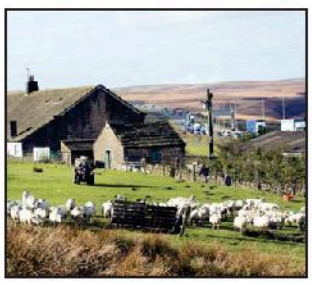
Colour gradient collection of dung beetles

Tokyo: A Japanese man, bored during the last stages of the COVID-19 lockdown, spent a whole month catching dung beetles and creating a mesmerising colour gradient collection.

On Aug. 17, Japanese X (earlier Twitter) user bochimushi posted a photo of hundreds of shiny dung beetles arranged by colour – from deep blue to purple – forming an impressive gradient. Apparently, the eye-catching collection of beetles was created in August of last year, as a way to pass the time during the end of the COVID-19 lockdown. Bored out of his mind, the man started hunting dung beetles and then arranging them neatly in this gradient style for a stunning visual effect. Bochimushi's collection consists of a whopping 450 dung beetles.

Bochimushi's photo was viewed over 1.4 million times and got around 22,000 likes.

A farm located in the middle of a motorway



Calderdale: The only farm in the world built right in the middle of a busy motorway, with crash barriers and a fence around it to keep livestock in and out-of-control vehicles out is the Stott Hall Farm.

The M62 motorway connecting the cities of Liverpool and Hull in Northern England is famous for having an inhabited farm right in the middle of its roadways in Calderdale.

The unique farm is one of the ten best-known sights on the UK motorway network and there are various stories and myths about its existence, the most popular of which claim that the motorway was split because the owners, Ken and Beth Wild, refused to sell.

Remembering T.S. Satyan

Sir,

It was a pleasure reading the news item titled 'Remembering T.S. Satyan' in SOM dated Aug. 16 and Aug. 18 about the legendary Photo-journalist T.S. Satyan.

I knew Satyan from the time he came to Mysore in 1989. We used to meet at Ganabharathi whose President late G.L.N.Ayya was his good friend.

Apart from sharing and consulting about his younger son's illness, he used to tell me his own story spread over several years. It is exactly 21 years ago in August 2002 his coffee-table volume of photographs 'In Love with Life' was released in Mysore by the first lady photo-journalist of India Homai Vyarawalla.

Later in 2003 when I planned to arrange a photo exhibition of my surgical photos rarely exposed to the public at Kalamandira, I met him at his residence in Saraswathipuram with my collection of whether they are worth exhibiting. I was quite nervous till the doyen of photography went through individually and asked me to go ahead. It was so gracious of him to agree to inaugurate the expo and even suggested a very apt title 'Scalpel and Lens' to my photo expo.

It was also so kind of Satyan writing a personal note on his book that was released in 2002.

After his passing away in 2009, a condolence meet was arranged at Kalamandira.

Rathna Satyan and their son lived for some time in the house on the main road in Saraswathipuram. After that I have lost touch with the Satyan family.

Unscientific road hump on Male Mahadeshwara Road removed

The hump was causing accidents instead of preventing it

Mysuru, Aug. 24 (RK&KS) - An unscientific road hump, installed in front of an apartment building on Male Mahadeshwara Road, which was causing numerous accidents has been finally removed.

Star of Mysore has published a news item titled "Motorists suffer as rubber humps come up 'overnight'" on Aug. 18, highlighting the plight of motorists, who had sustained injuries after passing over the hump.

Among many motorists who were injured, Mohan Kayaka, reporter of Mysuru Mithra (sister publication of Star of Mysore) was the latest victim. He sustained a fracture to his right shoulder and injuries to his leg while he was riding home after finishing his work on Aug. 14 night. Mohan also underwent a surgery at a hospital and on Aug. 22, lodged a complaint against the MCC Engineer and the contractor at Nazarbad Police Station seeking action against them.

It is learnt that the Traffic Police, in a bid to regulate traffic on Male Mahadeshwara Road, had urged the MCC to install a road hump in front of the apartment building following which the MCC installed a heightened segmented rubber road hump overnight. The MCC Engineers should have supervised the works and should have got the correct height rubber humps installed. They (Engineers) should have also got white stripes painted, install reflectors and a caution board too.

The absence of all these led to many accidents with many two-wheelers losing control of their bikes and scooter and sustaining injuries.

According to the guidelines associated with road humps, speed breakers are laid to prevent accidents.

But before laying the speed breakers, the porous points should have been identified and the thickness and type has to be decided as per the gravity of the situation.

To enable motorists, caution boards must be installed at a distance, besides painting the humps with a white strip. However, all these were missing in the newly installed road hump.

India on Top of the Moon

Successful Chandrayaan-3 Mission makes India first to touch South Pole and fourth to achieve the rare feat of soft landing on lunar surface

Bengaluru, Aug. 24- India scripted history in space mission, as Chandrayaan-3 achieved success with the soft landing of lander module named 'Vikram' at 6.04 pm on the moon yesterday. With this, the country became the first to touch South Polar region and fourth after USSR (now Russia), USA and China to achieve this humongous feat of landing on lunar surface.

With this, the 41-day journey of Chandrayaan-3 that began with the launching into the orbit from Sriharikota, Andhra Pradesh on July 14, hit a new new high, realising the efforts of a team of scientists at Indian Space Research Organisation (ISRO) led by its Chairman S. Somanath and the prayers of billions of Indians, who waited with bated breath, hooked to TV screens and mobile phones, as the lander 'Vikram' began his final descent from the altitude of 30 km at 5.44 pm, before making the landing at 6.04 pm.

Till then, the space craft travelled 3.84 lakh kilometres with seven payloads on board, keeping the hopes of many, with the Mission costing Rs. 615 crore.

Following the landing of Vikram, rover 'Pragyan' will be setting the stage for experiments for next 14 days, with the unchartered territory holding many valuable resources, said Chairman of ISRO S. Somanath.

The scientists believe that, South Polar region may also be the safe place for landing for manned mission in the future.

The final 20 minutes were crucial, as the scientists at Sriharikota were watching the screen with anxiety from their desks, recording every movement of Vikram, without batting eyelid. As the soft landing happened, they erupted in joy celebrating the moment that finally came, with a huge round of applause greeting each other.

Chairman of ISRO S. Somanath who came on to the stage officially announced the success of Chandrayaan-3 Mission with the soft landing of the space craft. Attributing the success to team efforts, Somanath greeted his team mates- Project Director of Chandrayaan-3 P. Veeramuthuvel, Deputy Project Director K. Kalpana, Mission Operations Director M. Srikanth and UR Rao Satellite Centre Director M. Sankaran.

Veeramuthuvel said "The Mission went as per the plan from launching into orbit to soft landing complying with the time line. We are happy to be the fourth country to descend on the moon and first to reach South Pole."

The success of Chandrayaan-3 also wiped out the bitter experience of Chandrayaan-2 in 2019, with the crash of the lander.

It's time to walk the moon: PM Narendra Modi

Prime Minister Narendra Modi who took time from Brazil-Russia-India-China-South Africa (BRICS) Summit at Johannesburg in South Africa, following the success of Chandrayaan-3 Mission said "India is on the moon. With this, the time has come, when even man can walk on the moon."

As the lander Vikram made a soft landing on the moon, Modi waved Indian flag, applauding the achievement of ISRO scientists.

Soft landing wasn't easy: ISRO Chairman Somanath

Elated over the success of Chandrayaan-3, ISRO Chairman S. Somanath said "We had waited for this day from several years. Unlike previous Mission when soft landing became difficult, we succeeded this time. For now, Pragyan the rover will take over."

Somanath

Speaking to media persons, Somanath said "India is on the moon now, and the success of the Mission will be a beacon of hope for future innovations and thank all who were a part of this journey."

Like all know, soft landing wasn't that easy, which finally happened with less than two metre per second velocity. The preparations for Aditya L-1 (the next Mission to explore sun) will start next month, added Somanath.

"Every Indian had prayed for the success of Chandrayaan-3 by performing puja, home and havan and hence I dedicate this success to them," said Somanath.

Finally, Sivan a happy man

Former ISRO Chairman K. Sivan during whose tenure in 2019, Chandrayaan-2 Mission failed at the last minute, is finally a happy man now, following the success of Chandrayaan-3 Mission.

K. Sivan

Sivan has shared his joy over India making strides in Space Science surging ahead among other countries in the world.

It may be mentioned that, during Chandrayaan-2, Prime Minister Narendra Modi himself was present at ISRO Centre. However, when the Mission failed at the time of soft landing, with the crash of lander, Sivan couldn't control his tears following the failure. PM Modi had consoled emotional Sivan, by hugging him.

PM to visit ISRO Centre in B'luru on Aug. 26

Following the success of Chandrayaan-3, Prime Minister Narendra Modi will be flying directly from Johannesburg to Bengaluru on Aug. 26, only to congratulate ISRO Scientists on their achievement.

PM Modi will be arriving on a special flight to HAL Airport at 5.55 pm. After relaxing at the airport till 6.30 pm, he will be visiting ISRO headquarters Antariksh Bhavan, on New BEL road in the State Capital at 7 pm. After holding a meeting with ISRO Scientists till 8 pm, PM Modi will depart from Bengaluru at 8.30 pm.

Mera Bharat Mahan: Chandrayaan-3

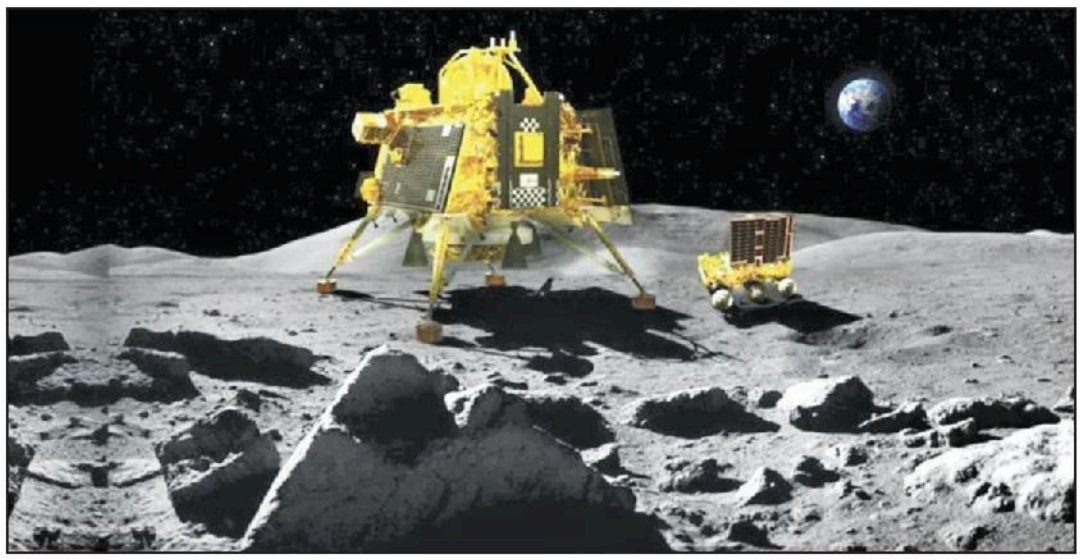
Homi J. Bhabha

Dr. Vikram Sarabhai



India has done it. Third time lucky. Chandrayaan-3, the Moon Mission of ISRO (Indian Space Research Organisation) has successfully landed on the designated spot on the moon's South Pole. It is an achievement attempted but not achieved by any other country in the world. As if to mock Russia, a pioneer in space research and technology, India's Chandrayaan-3 successfully landed on the moon days after Russian Luna-25 spacecraft crashed into the surface of the moon during preparations to attempt a landing at the lunar South Pole. Landing failed. Rest is space history for India.

A I watched the moon odyssey of Vikram the lander, carrying Pragyan the rover, there was anxiety and hope like when I watched the earlier Moon Mission Chandrayaan-2 on July 22, 2019. It was watched by Prime Minister Narendra Modi at ISRO Bengaluru. K. Sivan was the Chairman of ISRO. The ambitious mission looked headed for success. But at the last moment it failed as the lander landed with a heavy thud, not as much on the moon's surface as on the hearts of the then ISRO Chief Sivan, Prime Minister Narendra Modi, the ISRO team that worked on the project and the people of India. It was a moment of despair and great disappointment.

I remember the face of Sivan writ large with sadness and eyes welling up with a sense of loss. However, it was Prime Minister Narendra Modi who rushed to console the ISRO Chief and hugged him. That was the confluence of two rivers of human emotion one rarely saw these days. Sivan was overwhelmed by the gracious gesture of the Prime Minister. In an uncontrollable emotion, tears rolled down from his eyes. So also from my eyes as I watched the happenings on my TV in July 2019.

The same emotion I experienced this time (Aug. 23, 2023), but it was positive and restrained. My eyes getting wet with joy.

I remembered the opening lines of Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru's famous Independence Day speech: "Long years ago we made a tryst with destiny and now the time comes when we shall redeem our pledge..." Yes. ISRO, now headed by its Chairman S. Somanath (Sreedhara Panicker Somanath, to give his full name) has redeemed ISRO's pledge to 'conquer' moon that began with the launch of Chandrayaan-1 on Oct. 22, 2008.

Without an iota of doubt, absolutely, we Indians, 140 crore of us, must feel an amazing sense of great achievement. The scientific and technological capabilities seemed incomparable when we saw the clockwork precision with which the Chandrayaan-3 mission was executed and accomplished — to the dot. Such perfect manoeuvre, specially during those final 15 minutes of its descent, described as "15 minutes of terror." The mission team members themselves seemed wonderstruck.

When I began to reflect on India's performance in the field of Science and Technology after Independence in 1947, I realised that excepting Jawaharlal Nehru, we were failed by our successive Prime Ministers. Even for 1974 first Nuclear test, credit must go to Nehru, not his daughter Indira Gandhi.

Nehru took the advice of the Indian Nuclear Physicist Homi J. Bhabha and set up the Atomic Energy Commission with Bhabha as its first Chairman. The result was 1974 Nuclear Bomb Test. It was again Nehru who took the advice of the Indian Physicist and Astronomer Dr. Vikram Sarabhai and set up Committee for Space Research Organisation in 1962 which became Indian Space Research Organisation (ISRO) in 1969. The result was Chandrayaan-3.

No Prime Ministers after Nehru had done anything worthwhile in the field of Science and Technology. It was only after 2014, when Narendra Modi became the Prime Minister, that we began to see our country, Soft State, a sleeping Asian tiger that India was, wake up and show to the world what it is capable of doing in the field of Science and Technology. The success of Chandrayaan-3 is one such proof.

Fortuitously, now the ring master has lashed his whip and the tiger is awake! Beware, those who mock at India and those impede its unity and progress. Today the national hero is ISRO, according to the Chairman of ISRO S. Somanath. Not our film actors or politicians. And there is an upstart film hero, who is busy mocking India's Moon Mission, auguring its failure with a cartoon titled "1st image" showing a chaiwala whose image has the likeness to former ISRO Chief K. Sivan whose Moon Mission had failed.

Yes, there are those who do not like Modi, they even hate him. It is okay. It is their choice. But should they dislike and hate the country that gives them good earth to stand on, a livelihood, liberty, opportunity and freedom to pursue their profession and happiness? No.

These people use all the avenues available under the Constitution to belittle and mock Modi and our country on frivolous grounds. They are inventing half truths, lies and spreading canards. What they can't see with their eyes, they invent with their tongues and pen. They are intolerant of Modi and the country. God knows for what reason.

Having no achievements to show when they were in power, they are intolerant of those who achieve for the country. If they do not like Modi let them throw him out in the 2024 Parliamentary election. But let them spare the country, India that is Bharat. Let them not throw the baby out with the bath water.

March of India as a powerful country among the comity of nations has begun. Stop it if you can, you the detractors who bite the very finger that feeds you.

Food Quality Committee Members inspect Indira Canteen at K.R. Hospital

Mysuru, Aug.24 (RK&DM)- Members of the Food Quality Monitoring Committee that comprises of officials from various departments, made a surprise visit to Indira Canteen in K.R.Hospital premises on Tuesday and checked for quality of the food being served there.

The Committee is headed by the Deputy Commissioner and has Assistant Commissioner of Labour department, KSRTC Divisional Controller, MCC Zonal Assistant Commissioners and Health department Officials as members.

The Committee members visited K.R.Hospital Indira canteen at about 1 pm on Tuesday and checked the quality of food being served to the people there. Upon finding that the rice was not properly baked and that the quality of food items was not satisfactory, the Members directed the canteen operator to change the rice variety being used and to ensure a proper cooking system.

They also directed to maintain the right quantity and quality in the food served for breakfast, lunch and dinner and to maintain hygiene in the premises. The Officials instructed to maintain the food counters clean, provide pure drinking water and regular maintenance of toilets, warned MCC Senior Health Officer Dr. D. G. Nagaraj and Zonal Officer of MCC ZOne-6 M.S. Prathibha.

Dr. Nagaraj said that "The canteen operator has been asked to put up the time of service, menu and such other information for the benefit of customers." Asking the canteen operator not to give way for public complaints on the quantity and quality of food, Dr. Nagaraj said that action will be taken if there were complaints of poor quality . The Committee members will visit one Indira Canteen once in a fortnight and submit a report to the Deputy Commissioner in case of any shortcomings. There are 11 Indira Canteens in the city, which were set up when CM Siddharamaiah was the Chief Minister earlier in late 2017 and early 2018.

Remove unauthorised hoardings, flex across city: Sandesh Swamy

Mysuru, Aug. 24 (SPN&TRR)- BJP leader and former Mayor Sandesh Swamy (S. Satish) has penned letters to both the Deputy Commissioner and Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) Commissioner, urging immediate action against the proliferation of unauthorised advertisement hoardings and flexes throughout the city.

"While Corporation officials inform RTI activists that displaying advertisements and flexes in the city is not permitted, the reality on the ground is quite the opposite. Unauthorised advertisements and flexes are rampant and it's concerning that the Corporation authorities seem reluctant to address this issue," he said.

Highlighting a previous decision by the MCC to prohibit advertisement hoardings and flexes in the city centre due to Mysuru's status as a heritage city, Sandesh Swamy lamented that this decision hasn't been effectively enforced.

Mysuru holds a distinguished reputation, attracting visitors from around the world annually. The city's landscape features several statues of historical rulers of erstwhile Mysore State, often surrounded by unapproved flex boards. These boards are erected without permission from the MCC, evading necessary fees. Even Government advertisements aren't exempt from these unauthorised displays, leading to financial losses for the MCC, Sandesh Swamy said.

The former Mayor also highlighted the Karnataka Open Places (Disfigurement of Public Property) Act 1981, which allows for the arrest of those defacing public spaces without a warrant. However, this legal provision isn't being enforced against the offenders. Sandesh Swamy raised concerns about the lack of efforts to raise awareness about the issue, both through print, visual media and social media.

Drawing attention to a similar situation in Bengaluru where the High Court reprimanded the BBMP (Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike) for inaction and prompted them to address unauthorised advertisements, Sandesh Swamy advocated for a comparable response in Mysuru.

He urged the DC and MCC Commissioner to take immediate action to rectify the unauthorised advertising situation in Mysuru, in line with the actions taken in Bengaluru.

Stinky place now oozes freshness at Gokulam

Mysuru, Aug. 24 (PM&BS)- A stinking place that was once reeking of foul smell has got a change over, courtesy Mysuru City Corporation (MCC).

A corner of KRS Road near Gokulam in city was earlier replete with waste dumped by the nearby residents. Despite fervent appeals by Corporator SBM Manju to refrain from turning the place into a dump yard to maintain cleanliness, the residents were in no mood to listen.

Now, SBM Manju has given a new look to the place with wall paintings, playing equipment and benches. It was inaugurated by retired Principal of Yuvaraja's College Prof. Ashwathi recently. MLA K. Harishgowda who was also present lauded the initiative of SBM Manju.

SBM Manju said "Swachh Survekshan Survey is being conducted across the country with Mysuru also being a part of it. If the city has to come numero uno, the residents also have to cooperate with MCC by maintaining cleanliness. If the garbage is continued to litter, it will send a wrong message. Hence the place was given a new look."

Similar initiative has been already taken at Brindavan Extension where the locals had turned the place into a dump yard. Such places will be identified in remaining parts of the Ward and will be given a new look, added SBM Manju. Leaders Adiraj, Mahadevu, Kumar, Dinakar, Hanume Gowda, MCC Development Officer Manugowda and Engineer Ramu were present.

WORD OF THE DAY

Balmy

Pronunciation: BAH-mee.
Meaning: Balmy is an adjective that is often used to describe weather that is warm, calm and pleasant. It can also be used to describe someone or something (such as an idea) that is foolish or irrational.
Origin: Aromatic ointments and fragrances are the bomb. They are also, literally, balms: healing substances and soothing scents with the power to ease both mind and body. The original balm, what Latin-speakers referred to as balsamum, was the oleoresin of a species of balsam tree. In Anglo-French, balsamum became basme and baume, spellings which entered Middle English and later became balm. Balm eventually begat the adjective balmy, used to describe things with a balm's comforting, calming qualities, as when Shakespeare's Othello speaks of "balmy slumbers." Today balmy is typically used to describe the weather — balmy breezes, balmy temperatures, balmy spring afternoons, et al — conditions that are neither too hot nor too cold, but just right — Goldilocks conditions, even.
Example: "While our warmer winters have caused some of these dinosaur-like birds to remain in southern Michigan all year long, most are just now returning from balmier winter locales like Mexico and Cuba. You're most likely to find sandhill cranes this time of year in wet meadows, marshy areas & agricultural fields, though if you learn their distinctive, prehistoric-sounding call, you can also hear them as they flock overhead this season." —Emily Bingham, MLive.com (Grand Rapids, Michigan), 14 Mar. 2023

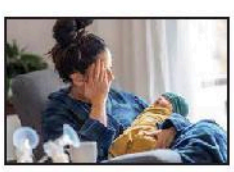
THE ODD WORD

Barbigerous

Bearded; bearing a beard.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Baby blues



Meaning: Feelings of depression or anxiety, experienced by some mothers following childbirth.
Origin: Had anyone mentioned 'baby blues' prior to WWII they would have been thought to have been talking about colour - specifically the colour of someone's eyes. Most babies are born with blue eyes due to a lack of the melanin pigment until sometime after birth. The use of the term 'baby blues' to mean eyes is a natural development, which came about in the USA in the early 20th century; for example, this from the American author Rex Ellingwood Beach's novel Winds of Chance, 1918: "Fix your baby blues on the little ball and watch me close."
In the 1940s 'baby blues' began to be used with the meaning we now usually give it, that is, post-natal depression.
